

Copyright and Licence Information

Contributors to the AIAL Forum

The AIAL National Executive, which publishes the AIAL Forum, would like to advise contributors about its policies in relation to copyrights, licences to publish articles, and payments received from the Copyright Agency Limited (CAL).

Copyright

Copyright in all articles published in the AIAL Forum remain with the contributor(s) unless otherwise specified in writing. Copyright in the form of the article printed in the AIAL Forum is held by the AIAL.

Licence to Publish

When a contributor submits an article or paper to the AIAL for publication in AIAL Forum, this is taken as consent for a licence to publish the material in print form in the AIAL Forum, and in electronic form on the AIAL website and the AUSTLII website.

CAL Payments

If the AIAL receives CAL or other similar payments in respect of material published in the AIAL Forum, all amounts received will be applied to the costs of publishing the AIAL Forum and developing the AIAL website. If a contributor wishes to receive such payments personally, they should register in their own name as an author with Copyright Agency Limited (CAL) and other such agencies.

Please direct inquiries about these policies to Peter Sutherland, AIAL Treasurer at e-mail: peter.sutherland@anu.edu.au.
